

Harrogate Christmas & Gift Very Busy Two Days

The opening day of Harrogate Christmas & Gift got off to an exceptional start yesterday (Sunday), with a vibrant atmosphere across the halls from the moment the doors opened. Visitors queued early to enter the show, setting the tone for what proved to be a busy and productive first day for exhibitors and buyers alike.

Exhibitors have reported strong levels of interest and positive conversations, with buyers taking time to browse, discover new ranges and discuss upcoming seasonal requirements. Visitors represented a broad cross-section of the retail and leisure sector, including garden centres, tourist attractions, independent gift shops, department stores, heritage centres and other specialist outlets, all keen to source distinctive, high-quality products for their customers.

Exhibitors also commented on the quality of visitors attending the show, noting the strong buying intent and the opportunity to engage in meaningful discussions away from the day-to-day pressures of retail environments. The relaxed atmosphere allowed visitors to explore the diverse mix of Christmas, gifting and seasonal products on display at their own pace.

Away from the stands, there was also a real sense of excitement building for the popular free party night, taking place straight after the show in the iconic Royal Hall tonight (Monday). Both exhibitors and visitors were looking forward to the opportunity to unwind, network and celebrate the opening of the show in one of Harrogate's most impressive venues.

Harrogate Christmas & Gift continues today and tomorrow, providing further opportunities for buyers to connect with suppliers and discover new inspiration. The show is open tomorrow (Tuesday) from 9am to 6pm, and on Wednesday from 9am to 4pm. Visitors are encouraged to make the most of the remaining days to explore the full breadth of products and enjoy everything the show has to offer.
