Glowing partnership

Premier Decorations Ltd, the UK's leading Christmas innovator, has joined forces with Chartered Horticulturalist and Broadcaster David Domoney as its new Christmas Ambassador. Together they will inspire the nation with videos, social media, and print campaigns showcasing the latest in decorative lighting, technology, and energy-saving innovations that bring festive magic to life.

Managing director John Athwal OBE said the partnership combines Premier's product expertise with David's passion and creativity to "bring magic and inspiration to millions of families."

With over a million followers across platforms, David—known for his ITV appearances and Illumination Street campaign—will create aspirational displays and tips on trees, lights, and décor. Filming took place in October, with videos launching in November.
